

10.2.3 – Reporting Online Sexual Harassment

Resource A

Scenarios:

1. “I had a friend, but we fell out, so he made a new profile with my profile picture, added all my friends on Facebook, and posted that “I am gay.”
2. “I finally sent a nude to a boy I really liked, who told me we could be such a great couple. I fell for it. The next day, my pictures were all around school.”
3. “A friend of mine was in a seemingly healthy sexual relationship. He noticed things weren’t okay, so he decided to end the relationship. That person then retaliated in threatening my friend about sharing nude photos. My friend felt there was no-one to turn to.”
4. “Someone recorded my friend during sex and then had gone around showing it to other friends.”
5. “A nude was sent and it was screenshot and posted on social media. From there, it was screenshot and posted to this group chat I was in.”
6. “Someone I know posted a photo of herself and she kept getting comments to ‘take her top off’ or other things.”
